

The Borneo Orangutan Adventure April 2009 and September 2009

Introduction

The Borneo Orangutan Adventure 2009 is an opportunity of a lifetime, where you will spend 14 days in the most enchanting and beautiful surroundings, some of which are far from the tourist trail.

You will meet the locals and learn about their environment and communities, and at the same time make a positive contribution to the diminishing rainforest and the critically endangered apes - the orangutans - who live there.

Mt Kinabalu

You will stay in a variety of accommodation - from the 5* Shangri-la Rasa Ria, to lodges and home stays, and you will be accompanied by an experienced local guide.

Whilst in Sabah you will trek through virgin rain forest, traverse the canopy walkways, visit beautiful waterfalls, and, see the most amazing variety of wildlife. You will travel by minibus between destinations, or (for the more energetic) you can choose to mountain bike part of the way. You will be taken by boat along the Kinabatangan River to spot proboscis monkeys, elephants, a huge variety of birds and, of course, wild orangutans.

You will be travelling in a team (not more than 12) of like-minded people. During your trip you will be passing through "orangutan country", spotting nests, lone individuals and maybe mothers with their babies. The Adventure culminates at the world acclaimed rehabilitation centre - Sepilok, where you will see rehabilitated orangutans living free in the protected reserve and visit their feeding platform.

Whether you are 25yrs old or 65yrs old this is the adventure for you, as during the whole trip you can choose how much of the activities you take part in.

You can also choose to raise sponsorship for your trip – contact us for more information.

The Adventure costs £2,399.00 and includes, flights, all accommodation, transfers, guides, boats, (bikes if required) and most of your meals
